

About IST

Commencing operation in 2003, International Security Training, LLC has slowly become one of the world's most respected sources of education in the Protection Community. We provide private educational services to three demographicals.

The first being individual students, the second being training companies & agencies, and thirdly – instructors & curriculum developers.

We've trained executive protection agents; security directors, managers, & supervisors, bail enforcement, law enforcement, military, private investigator and casino security personnel, just to name a few.

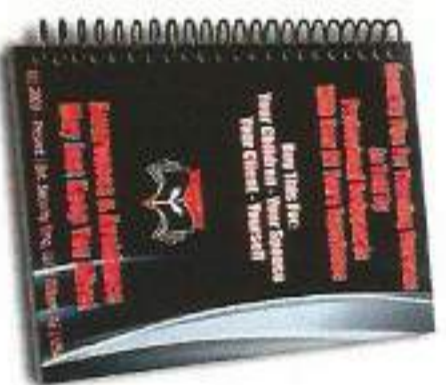

Our courses & seminars are professional / occupational focused... not credit granting for public education. This saves our students a lot of money, and provides them current and actionable information.
